

ORNAMENTAL PEPPER

OVERVIEW

Ornamental peppers are grown for their attractively colored fruit. The fruit lasts on the plants for a long time providing pops of color to borders and containers. The fruit on ornamental peppers is technically edible but often very bland, or extremely spicy and are not typically eaten.

WATER

For best quality fruit water regularly to maintain consistent moisture, but do not saturate.

LIGHT

Full Sun

SOIL

Plants prefer rich and loamy soil with good drainage.